

THE DAILY SENTINEL is two cents a copy, ten cents a week, forty cents a month, $1.50 a year—either by carrier or mail.

THE WEEKLY SENTINEL is 5 cents a copy, fifty cents per six months, $1.00 a year; in clubs of ten or more, ninety cents a copy one year, and a free copy to the getter up of the club—cash in advance.

ADVERTISING EXPENSE. In the Daily or Weekly six cents a line (seven words) each insertion in local column. No charge less than twenty-five cents. Amusements, "meetings," "lectures" and special notices on the first page in large type, ten cents a line. Nothing less than fifty cents. Announcements of "weddings," "lost," "found," marriages and deaths, twenty-five cents. Checks and money orders to be made payable to E. A. K. HACKETT.

The average circulation of THE DAILY SENTINEL, exceeding that of any paper in the state, outside of Indianapolis, shows how completely it maintains its superiority as the most effective and economical advertising medium in the west. Not only in the number of papers sold, but in the character of its audience, it stands higher than any other journal in the state published outside of Indianapolis. THE SENTINEL is read by the most intelligent and prosperous class of people in Northern Indiana.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 17.

BY E. A. K. HACKETT.

JOHN NEW has a bar'l and proposes to utilize it.

The Chili-uns are making it warm for the Peruvians sure.

This does not appear to be a Sioux-tale country for Sitting Bull.

The Grant pension fund, as it is called, is growing. It now amounts to nearly $10,000.

RIGHTLY did Hon. Abram S. Hewitt say: When a man becomes a judge, he should cease to be a partisan.

VIRGINIA is in a perpetual state of unrest. Senator Johnson says the state-debt question will be fought over next fall.

JOSEPH E. BROWN was yesterday elected United States senator from Atlanta. A. R. Lawton, his opponent, received 61 votes.

GENERAL GRANT is determined to run again for president, and every movement of his for the next four years will be made with that object in view.

OHIO republicans are at the gouge game. General Beatty, who opposed Sherman's candidacy to the presidency, now favors him for senator to beat Foster.

This promises to be a successful operatic and theatrical season, but if better pieces and performers are not sent to Fort Wayne, there promises to be a sudden falling off in attendance.

The New York Sun pertinently asks: Have any of the capitalists who see in the rich Mr. Grant an object of charity ever bestowed a thought upon Abraham Lincoln's widow?

The bill of particulars furnished the land leaguers indicted at Dublin for conspiracy charges that they terrorized landlords to prevent their collecting rents, and that it was done by meetings and speeches.

WHEN a poor city clerk has overdrawn his account over $4,000, and stands thus on the books, it argues reckless judgment when he is promoted to the position of cashier; and yet this was done in the case of Woodward, the Boston defaulter.

THE republican press is now engaged in blackguarding Abram S. Hewitt. This certainly is characteristic of the party. It never can stand up to the rack and face the music, but slides off on to some side issue and blows its little bugle.

THE cities of Fort Wayne and St. Louis were the only places where a re-enumeration of the census was accorded. In the former an increase of some 900 is noted, but St. Louis has completed her count and finds she has 238,862, a loss of nearly 100,000.

THE St. Louis Republican says Missouri beats Indiana in population and in the increase of population, but it cannot equal it in the business of voting. The total number of votes cast in Missouri at the recent election, was about 410,000; the number cast in Indiana was 470,000.

THE population of New York city, according to the official bulletin, is 1,209,677. The number of males is 590,762, and of the females 618,915; excess of females, 29,000. The native residents are 727,743, and the foreign born 478,934. Two fifths of the people are, therefore, foreign by birth.

It is hoped and there are excellent reasons for believing, that the English government will soon take such steps as will abolish the restrictions on the importation of cattle. The cry of Texan fever, raised by the British veterinary department, proves to have been somewhat previous.

ANOTHER aspirant for honors on the supreme bench has come to the surface in the person of Judge Noah Davis, who so recklessly and without looking at the evidence, rendered a decision in the Philip case. In no other way can the matter be viewed than that of a bid for Garfield's favor in giving out honors.

ABOUT sixteen hundred bills on the calendar await congress at its re-assembling in final session. Short work will be made with most of them; they will never become laws. Nearly a thousand of the number are individual benefit bills; and of the public bills many can be grouped within the regular appropriations of real importance.

In order to show learning now, a girl who is possessed of kissing propensities cannot have a cold sore. No, she must say it is an abnormal and quasi-inflammatory condition of the ciliated epithelium membrane of the lymphatic gland, contiguous to the orbicularis oris, and the zygomatic arch or levator labii superioris, ai aqua nasi. She should be treated accordingly.

ACCORDING to the Pharos, Logansport is a comparatively healthy city. This is to be hoped, for one does not have to travel very far back in recollection to encounter the shaking mania at every turn, and the grim goblin at every cesspool. But then Logansport is not riding on prosperity's topmost wave alone. Fort Wayne and a dozen other cities are in the same boat, bound for the same point: the up-building of Indiana's cities in every sense of the word.

THE senatorial fight in New Jersey is already progressing with earnestness; all along the line and it promises to involve much bitterness before the contest shall be decided. The names prominent in the struggle are Senator Sewell, Congressman Robeson, George A. Halsey, ex-Senator Frelinghuysen, ex-State Senator Potts and late candidate for governor, with William Walter Phelps, Courland Parker, Senator Hobart and some others on the outer edges of the circle.

A CURIOUS election fraud on the part of the republicans has been unearthed in Cincinnati. The ballot-box was so arranged that when tickets were deposited therein, each one was stamped. In one particular precinct, when the counters were at work, a young lawyer and zealous radical put fourteen fraudulent tickets in the box, which would have been counted had not the democratic judges detected the fraud, and thrown out the ballots. Similar cases could no doubt be found in other parts of the state.

CURRENT OPINION.

'Twas Never Stronger.
Shelbyville Democrat.

To the time-servers and sneaks who think the only purpose or motive of a political party is to get and hold office, are rushing forward to say that the democratic party must and will now die. This has often been said before, but the prediction has never proved true. As a matter of fact, the democratic party was never stronger since it was organized.

General Hancock.
Indianapolis Sentinel.
General Hancock, the incorruptible citizen, the able executive officer, the true patriot, was defeated, but in defeat he will command the respect which his untarnished honor and record pre-eminently deserve.

More Zeal than Wisdom.

Philadelphia Times.

In the laudable attempt to expose the Chinese letter forgery and to punish all concerned in it the friends of General Garfield are in danger of letting zeal outrun discretion. The decision of Judge Davis in the Philip case, with all its good points, is disfigured and made a reproach by the inexcusable attempt of the judge to find bigger game than Philip upon which to exercise his celebrated power of denunciation. It is amazing that he should have attacked Mr. Hewitt with so little foundation in the testimony for his allegations.

PARAGRAPHS.

The resignations of General Garibaldi and his son were not accepted by the Italian chamber of deputies, but three months' leave of absence was granted.

Charles F. Ottignon, famous as a teacher of gymnastics, died in New York on Sunday. Clem Canana, a negro, passed away at Guilford, Va., at the age of 121.

A Cleveland dressmaker answered the doorbell at 3 o'clock on Sunday morning, and found her divorced husband, Theodore W. Somers, sitting beside a hitching post with a bullet in his brain. It is thought he shot himself after ringing the bell.

BLUFFTON.

Court Notes—A Bill Between English—General and Personal Notes. Correspondence of The Sentinel.

BLUFFTON, IND., Nov. 16.—Circuit court commenced its session this morning, Judge Bobb presiding. It has a small docket, no crime criminal case. Wells is democratic.

Jerome B. Reiff, a Mexican veteran residing near town, received notice today that he had been allowed a pension of two dollars per month. As it commences with the filing of the application some five years ago, it will be a snug little sum.

Ben Connor and Ed. Borden got into a dispute as to which was the better man, physically. They stepped out of the saloon in which they were and by mutual agreement commenced a regular battle. Connor caught Borden's fist in his face—and sat down on the sidewalk. Borden urged him by sundry kicks to get up, but as he declined, he was assisted by his friends, and the battle declared won by Borden.

Hattie D. Patterson, daughter of George Patterson, came near choking today while eating, a portion of her food lodging in her throat, causing blood to gush from her nose. Dr. Clark was hastily called and removed the obstruction.

Our firm of J. North & Bro., lumber-dealers, is a heavy firm in more respects than one. The aggregate weight of the two brothers is about 400 pounds.

Mason & Morgan's combination will entertain our people with the old but always interesting play of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" on Saturday night next at Curry's hall.

S. M. Daily has purchased the immense dry goods stock of Amos Curry. They are now invoicing preparatory to Mr. Daily's taking charge.

Rumor has it that a young west end gent will be married soon. I guess HARTLEY but ROWLEY I don't know.

W. W. Worthington, superintendent of the Muncie road, is in town today.

John Daugherty allows the most of his weight to rest on the other foot just now. It's rheumatism.

The hot blood engendered by the recent railroad election is cooling off.

STATE NEWS.

Scarlet fever has appeared at Richmond.

Johnson's elevator at Tipton was burned on Friday.

Twenty-five Terre Haute policemen attended church on last Sunday.

Hog cholera, of a violent type, prevails in several sections of the state.

Charles Mellett, youngest son of Judge Joshua H. Mellett, of New Castle, died on Monday.

The citizens of Pike county are greatly annoyed by gangs of thieves, begging tramps, who are committing many depredations.

It was Second Assistant Postmaster General Brady, and not E. B. Martin, who offered John C. New & Son $100,000 for the Indianapolis Journal.

The wheat trade of Petersburg has been very heavy this fall. One firm alone has purchased 40,000 bushels, paying out for it among the farmers $45,930 cash.

Horse thieves have been quite active in Pike, Warrick and Dubois counties of late. In Pike county horses and wagons are taken, and the thieves fit the wagons up for comfortable traveling by stealing bedding and provisions.

An unknown female, aged about twenty five, was found lying in the streets of Madison almost frozen to death early Monday morning. It is supposed she is a woman of the town, known as "Snowball," and had been left in a sad plight by the vile men with whom Madison is infested, some of whom were recently brought before the grand jury.

NEWS NOTES.

The schooner E. M. Carrington, is reported capsized near Milwaukee.

Daniel Troutman was murdered by a burglar at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Texas has a cotton crop estimated at 1,250,000 bales, and valued at $60,000,000.

The German Catholic church at Guttenburg, Iowa, was robbed of its chalices and vestments.

Cashier James A. Hedden has been convicted of embezzlement from the Newark savings bank.

The 16th infantry is enroute from Fort Riley to San Antonio, in a special train of nine coaches.

Fourteen men and two women are confined in the toms, New York, for murders committed since May.

Two robbers made a daylight raid on a jewelry store in Grand Rapids, but the leader was speedily jailed.

Jimmy Carroll, the bank robber, failed to appear for trial at Galesburg, and judgment for $12,000 was rendered against his bailmen.

The corpse of Captain Lenklat, of the schooner Grenada, which was lost in the same storm as the Alpena, floated ashore at Muskegon.

A train on the Lehigh Valley railroad was wrecked on Tuesday, near Mill Creek, Pennsylvania, by a broken rail. The fireman was instantly killed.

FORT WAYNE.

Enter, Councilman Pape!

Butchers' union ball to-morrow night.

The friends of temperance will find Malt Bitters invigorating and strengthening.

The men who carefully closed the door after him all summer now leaves it wide open.

The organization of a new string orchestra, under the leadership of Professor Scheuffer, is being talked of.

The tramp who, all through the summer claimed to be a snow shoveler by profession, now demands work as a gardener.

An exchange gets off the old, but now apropos, joke: "People with colds in their heads belong to a generation of wipers."

The annual election of officers and trustees, to serve for the ensuing year, will be held by Sol D. Bayless lodge of free masons, at their hall, on Monday evening, December 13.

The ladies of the Centenary M. E. church will hold their semi-annual festival on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, at Cour & Son's old grocery stand, on Calhoun street.

Messrs. Charles Weller, Leopold Wolf and Frank Gruber will act as floor managers at the Butchers' union ball, to be held to-morrow (Thursday) evening, at the Arion hall.

The members of the Sidonia society are making grand preparations for their hop, to be held at Anderson's hall, on Thanksgiving evening. Supper for the party will be served at Langhor's spring parlors.

The marriage of Mr. Frank H. McKemie and Miss Adelia Off, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Off, took place this morning at Trinity church, in the presence of a large number of interested spectators.

The oldest friends are to-day the friends of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. They have proven its great worth in all cases of coughs, colds, hoarseness, tickling in the throat, irritation of the bronchial tubes and lungs, etc.

The new lodge room in the Sidel block was dedicated last night by Wayne lodge of free masons. The attendance was large, and included several invited guests. The interesting ceremony was performed in a pleasing manner, and every one present spent an evening of enjoyment.

In the criminal court this morning, before the Snurr murder trial was proceeded with, James Mahan entered a plea of guilty to a charge of petit larceny, and was sentenced to ten days imprisonment in the county jail. Geo. L. Rector pleaded guilty to a similar charge, and was given thirty days.

Messrs. Pape and Fred. C. Boltz contested the election of a Ninth ward councilman, yesterday, in a quiet and friendly manner. There was little excitement, though the supporters of the opposing candidates worked like beavers. Mr. Pape received six more votes than his opponent, the score standing 213 to 207. Mr. Pape will make a valuable addition to the board of councilmen.

Ten years ago to-day, Captain E. B. Smith, the efficient chief of the Fort Wayne police, was married to his present wife. This evening, in accordance with a time-honored custom, the couple will celebrate their tin wedding in the usual pleasant manner. A large number of the friends of the gallant captain and his estimable wife, have been invited to partake of the festivities connected with the celebration, which will be held at the family residence, 33 McClellan street.

A stylish wedding took place last evening, at the residence of the bride's mother, on West Main street, and was witnessed by a large representation of the wealthy and fashionable portion of the Jewish element. The contracting parties were Mr. Charles Nathan and Miss Ella Nudinger, both of this city, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward Rubin. Relatives of the family from several cities besides Fort Wayne, were present. The presents to the bride were numerous and valuable.

CRIMINAL COURT.

After a couple of minor cases had been disposed of in the criminal court, this morning, Judge Borden presiding, the Snurr murder trial was proceeded with.

A large crowd occupied the courtroom, including several jurymen and parties interested in the case.

John Snurr, the prisoner at the bar, was accompanied by his brother, Perry, who, it is alleged, had a hand in the murder.

The first witness for the prosecution, was Mr. John Kintz, saloon-keeper in the Seventh ward, who testified to the following effect: Have lived in Fort Wayne nearly twenty-seven years; was for three years a member of the police force; was at the brewery when Myers was killed; at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Myers commenced sparring with John Snurr, in a friendly way; Myers slapped Snurr with his open hand; Snurr with his fist, commenced fighting in earnest; should think twenty blows were struck; Perry Snurr also struck Myers several times with his fist; Nichol joined in the fight, too; Myers bit John Snurr's nose; witness said the fight must be stopped; after a short time, Myers ran at Perry Snurr; both were swearing; Myers caught Snurr, hit him in the breast and knocked him down; John Snurr ran to a wood-pile, took a stick of wood, and struck Myers with it on the back of the head; struck him three times; Charley Kintz interfered; Perry Snurr raised a round club against Myers—not against Kintz; Myers never spoke after John Snurr struck him with the stick of wood; don't know that Myers had been drinking; Buttenburg was there at the time; John Snurr had been drinking; he showed it in his face and his talk; did not see him stagger; Myers had a knife in his hand; I did not see it till after Myers had been hit, when I saw it on the ground, close to where Myers was lying; I have no feeling against the Snurr boys; did not know either of the parties; Myers was taken to his house, after he was dead; I went with the body; several others went, too; Charley Kintz was one of them; don't know that I had ever seen Myers before that day; in the sparring, don't know who struck the first blow.

THE RAILROADS.

Local, General and Personal Notes.

The east and west sidings at Lima, are to be connected.

Conductors Lillorid and Jones of the Pittsburg road, have been reinstated.

The Grand Rapids & Indiana pay car has made its November trip over the road.

FRUIT HOUSE.

AMUSEMENTS.

"A GENTLEMAN FROM NEVADA."

The audience that partially filled the opera house, last night, was scarcely large enough to be called medium-sized. It is a remarkable fact that the best shows that have visited Fort Wayne this season, have been the most poorly patronized. The show given by the "Mrs. Joshua Whitcombe" company so disgusted the regular theatre-goers that many of them registered vows to absent themselves from the opera house for some time to come. The result was that very few of the familiar faces, apart from the small army of dead-heads, were observable in last night's audience. The manner in which "A Gentleman from Nevada" was performed furnished a genuine and agreeable surprise to every one present who had expected to witness anything but a first-class play presented by first class actors and actresses. The comedy-drama, as it is termed, is well balanced throughout. Each performer is afforded an equal chance to display his or her ability, the play being so constructed that no one or two persons monopolize the greater portion of the attention. Sellers, for instance, a stiff old English butler, is almost as prominent a character as Christopher Columbus Galt, Mr. J. B. Poik, the star. The four ladies of the cast are allowed about equal latitude, with some discrimination, of course, in favor of Mrs. Emma Pieter, the leading lady, who, in the role of Lady Alice Leslie, fairly charmed the audience with the ease and elegance of her bearing, the clearness of her voice, and the naturalness and splendid style of her acting. Mr. Murry Wood's Ah Te, Mr. Galt's Chinese servant, was a good rendition of an amusing part. Mr. Frank Losee, as English Jack and John Castle, the villain of the piece, did some fine acting, and, in spite of the unpopular character assigned to him, gained the sympathy and admiration of the audience. Messrs. Kelly and Milton, as Reginald Lord Edgerton and Captain Verelox respectively, acquitted themselves creditably, but not by any means brilliantly. Lady Edgerton, by Miss V. Buchanan, Lady Edith Leslie, by Miss Lizzie High, and "Johnny" by Miss Louisa Dixon, were all well taken. In fact, there was not a weak point in the entire performance. The play itself is original in conception and possesses a much literary merit, and no better troupe could have been selected to place it before the public in a manner to delight the author's heart. Of Mr. Poik's acting, it may be said that nothing better calculated to place the performer on the best of terms with the audience can well be conceived. His style is frank, humorous, and easy, and yet it possesses an element of awkwardness quite natural even to a more cultured class of American than Christopher Columbus Galt, in response to the British aristocracy. While the writer desires to avoid anything like gush, he is constrained to say that Mr. Poik, as a comedian of a thoroughly American type, he undeniably a success of the season. His next appearance in Fort Wayne, which, it is believed, will soon be announced, will be hailed with pleasure by all who attended the opera house last night, and by hundreds of others.

STAGE WHISPERS.

Clara Morris gets $2,000 a week. Barrett is very successful in Canada.

Ames lost $100,000 in Brussels trying to run a theatre.

A Pittsburg critic says that Mary Anderson "is beyond criticism."

Annie Louise Carey is reported to be the fortunate owner of $100,000 worth of real estate in Portland, Maine.

Keene's success is accompanying him. At last accounts he was playing a strong engagement in New Orleans.

John McCullough opened a four weeks' season at the Fifth Avenue theatre, New York, Monday evening, in "Virginia."

Catherine E. Merritt, sister of Alice Oates, died recently in Louisville. She had been bed-ridden for the past ten years and helples.

The "Gentleman from Nevada" company does not contain a song and dance artist. This fact alone should recommend the play to the respectable public.

Cincinnati Saturday Night—Barrett in mind, Berry hard on it, Palmer self on us, and it will make her Madden blazes if she Anderson ain't tackled to. But, anyhow, she'll make Lotta money, and it will be an Abbeymen that manages her.

"Quartz Valley," Macaulay's new play, by E. A. Locke, author of the "Messenger," is said to be a very strong drama, the scenes of which are in the wild west. He will produce it for the first time on any stage at Pope's theatre, St. Louis, next Monday evening.

Rules for Nextens.

When fashionably dressed strangers visit the church, parade them up to the most conspicuous seats; they will be quite an ornament to the building; but plain or shabbily dressed persons should be taught to know better than to enter a fashionable church by being stowed away in some unobtrusive corner, (see James, 12) where he will not be an eye sore to dashing flashers. THE LATE MRS. DILLS.

Memoirs of a Negro with Respect to Her Death, Adopted by the Medical College.

A meeting of the students of the Fort Wayne medical college was held last evening for the purpose of passing resolutions of condolence with Dr. T. J. Dills, with reference to the loss recently sustained by that gentleman in the death of his wife.

The following resolutions were adopted unanimously:

INASMUCH, As it has pleased God in His providence to remove from earth the beloved companion of our esteemed instructor, Professor T. J. Dills, M. D., therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the students of the medical college of Fort Wayne, give in some manner, as best we can, an expression to the sorrow we feel for Professor Dills in his time of great affliction.

Resolved, That in the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Dills, society has lost a bright light, a fond husband has lost an affectionate wife and helpmate, and a tender little baby has lost a loving mother.

Resolved, That we hereby tender to Professor Dills and to all the immediate relatives and friends of the deceased, our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to them.

"Friend after friend departs,
Who hath not lost a friend?
There is no union here of hearts
That finds not here an end;
When this frail world our only rest,
Living or dying, none are blest."

"Beyond the flight of time,
Beyond this vale of death,
There surely is some blessed clime
Where life is not a breeze fit,
Nor life's affections transient fire,
Whose sparks fly up to expire."

A Seconded Seconded.

"Be of good cheer—
Never fear,
For I am here,
Susy dear."

This little poem was original, and he had set it to music, unaided and alone. It was "the cool of the day," and as the shades of the evening were gathering in, he carolled forth his song beneath the window of his own heart's idol, who resided in the classic ninth ward.

The melodious strains of his silvery voice brought forth no immediate response, so he proceeded to give his fair gazelle another stanza, which was purely impromptu. It ran thusly:

"Sure's you live,
I've a riv.
To thee I give—"

The last word re-ported had scarcely melted into air before the gay young serenader struck another tune, for the contents of a pair of slops from the window of his lady love had struck him all of a heap, and caused him to splutter and gasp for breath.

With an agonized expression of countenance he wrung the liquid from his eyes, and cast a reproachful glance up at the window whence the deluge had proceeded; and, as he did so he dolefully murmured:

"Oh, Susy dear,
Look a here!
I sadly fear—"

He stopped short, never to sing again, for a form stood at the window that froze his young blood,—the form of his intended father-in-law, armed with a boot jack, poker, clothes brush and razor strap.

"You got darned young cuss!" exclaimed the father of his heart's desire: "haven't you had enough, or do you want the rest?" and he threateningly raised the boot jack.

The serenader dodged his head.

"Come now, git!" shouted paternalitas; "and next time you come around screeshin' poetry under this here window I'll give you the shot-gun. Susy ain't within a mile of here. She's gone to the Olympian with Jim Watkins."

The young man left, and as he trilled his weary, dripping less southward along Calhoun street, he rowed never again to resort to serenading as a means of wooing a female woman.

ARISE.

Election of Officers of the Society of the 1st of Nov. Night.

The members of the Arion society met at their hall last evening, for the purpose of electing a new staff of officers to serve during the ensuing six months. The attendance was large and the election resulted in the choice of the following gentlemen:

Joseph Sturm, president.
Andrew Foster, vice president.
Henry R. Zar Muhler, secretary.
August Brieler, treasurer.
Jacob Walther, auditor.
A. Mergentheim, W. Greibel and H. Lampert, trustees.
August Scheffler, musical director.

The popular and efficient representative of the Watertown and other insurance companies in Grand Rapids, Mich., Mr. Wm. Marshall, writes: "I cannot too highly praise the curative qualities of that wonderful remedy, St. Jacob's Oil, for it cured me of rheumatism when other remedies failed. I would not be without a bottle again for ten dollars, even if I had to pay that much for it."
